Declaration of Corporate Social Responsibility

The issue of sustainability is increasingly in the focus of the general public, the retail sector and consumer protection organisations.

At the request of various stakeholders, on 29 April 2015 the European Fruit Juice Association (AIJN) adopted a new Code of Business Conduct (CoBC) for the fruit juice industry. This new code is based on the six fruit juice CSR principles of the CSR sector roadmap of the Juice CSR Platform and the former SGF/IRMA Code of Conduct. Moreover, it is based on the general principles contained in the International Bill of Human Rights, fundamental ILO conventions, relevant United Nations conventions and guidelines and the Sustainable Agriculture Initiative Platform (SAI). The generally accepted standards of corporate social responsibility and ethical conduct shall be applied throughout the whole value chain of our industry.

The AIJN Code of Business Conduct appeals to all companies to comply with the internationally recognised minimum standards for human rights, working conditions and the environment. The provisions of the AIJN CoBC apply to four main areas:

- I Economic Sustainability
- II Social Sustainability
- III Environmental Sustainability
- IV Monitoring

In future, the AIJN Code of Business Conduct will become part of the SGF checklist for control and auditing. Commitment to the AIJN CoBC will be a requirement for successful SGF certification. SGF member companies confirm that they are in the process of striving to fulfil the stipulated sustainability criteria.

SGF will use its existing certification structures to react accordingly to requests from retailers and consumers.

By signing this document, we recognise the AIJN Code of Business Conduct for our whole company and declare our willingness to abide by its provisions.
